In tears we saw you sinking
And watched you fade away
Our hearts were truly broken
We wanted you to stay.
But when we saw you sleeping
So peacefully from pain,
How could we wish you were back
With us to suffer again.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you did not go alone
Because parts of us went with you
When God called you home.

Good night
